

NESEA Green Buildings Open House

October 2, 2010

Sponsors are invited to take advantage of this prime opportunity to reach consumers who are in the market for green building materials and services, renewable energy systems, and other eco-friendly lifestyle products.

Make your plans now to join us for the annual Green Buildings Open House (GBOH). It is the largest sustainable energy event in the Northeast! It is held annually on the first Saturday of October in conjunction with the American Solar Energy Society National Solar Tour and National Energy Awareness Month. The tour date is October 2, 2010. The goal is to showcase energy efficiency and renewable energy features in the many advanced buildings within NESEA's 10-state territory, the six New England States, plus Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. It connects consumers with professionals who can provide the services and products needed to retrofit existing buildings and build new ones capable of deep energy reductions and the on-site generation of clean power.

More than 16,000 people from Maine to Pennsylvania are expected to attend the largest tour of green buildings in the Northeast. Over 500 sites will open their doors to educate the public about green building choices and answer questions. Onsite tour registration opened early this year on February 1, 2010. Be sure to have your company noticed by becoming a GBOH sponsor.

The deadline to receive all benefits is August 1, 2010.
